

Happening Hyderabad

Hyderabad city has without doubt surprised the country with its turnaround, its new sense of direction.

The new energy the city dwells in has been brought in by its people, but also, in good measure, by the thought leadership within the government. In this issue, eminent Hyderabadi's decode the swift changes we are witnessing in the technology and pharmaceutical space.

We also speak to the phenomenal minister Harish Rao, whose project Mission Kakatiya has brought water to rural, parched Telangana, and filled the landscape with a new green.

Our eminent guest writers celebrate Hyderabad's zest for sport, its diverse community clubs, its architecture, its generosity and the virtually non-stop fine art events that now dot each day of the calendar.

The fact that Hyderabadi's are among the warmest people one will find anywhere is attested by many in these pages, and we are sure you agree.
